

Answer Sheet: Roz

Multiple-choice questions

1. C
2. B
3. D
4. C
5. C

True/False questions

1. False
2. True
3. False
4. True
5. True

Short-answer questions

1. Tendons attach muscles to bones, while ligaments hold bones together at a joint.
2. Tiny hairs called cilia are on the surface of the oviduct's cells, and they waft the egg along towards the uterus.
3. Two physical changes for both are the growth of pubic hair and underarm hair.
4. To straighten the arm, the biceps muscle relaxes, and the triceps muscle contracts.
5. The fluid sac works like a shock absorber to protect the fetus.

Fill-in-the-blank (Cloze) questions

1. cartilage
 2. tendons
 3. sperm
 4. implantation
 5. ovulation
-